5. Confidentiality Policy

The Confidentiality Policy adopted by EFAFLU is based on the principles of:

- Not using third-party information without their authorization, although we may use email addresses provided by you to respond to your communication or request;
- Providing you with the means to manage and control the information provided to us;
- Providing resources to communicate your concerns regarding EFAFLU's confidentiality policy.

Upon request, you have the right to receive information stored about your personal data. You also have the right for your data to be corrected, blocked, or deleted. If in doubt, please contact EFAFLU via email at dpo@efaflu.pt.

Our Cookie Policy

EFAFLU is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected and that it complies with its obligations under the Data Protection Act.

When you visit our website, information may be stored on your computer in the form of cookies. These are solely used to optimize the use of the site. You can always choose not to accept these cookies in your browser settings. However, in this case, some functions may not be available.

If you use the EFAFLU website and have allowed the activation of cookies in your browser settings, this means that you intend to make the most of our website, accepting the use of cookies as described here and other technologies.

Data Collection and Processing

EFAFLU only archives personal data relating to users of its web pages when previously authorized by them.

The only data collected relates to the date and time of the visit, the pages consulted, the name of the Internet access provider, and the website from which the user accessed EFAFLU's web pages. EFAFLU uses this information to measure the activity of its pages, to compile statistics, and to improve the services and information available on the web pages. Personal data relating to users who permit it are only used for processing inquiries or for the purpose for which authorization was given, in accordance with applicable data protection legislation. EFAFLU will never disclose such data to other companies for their independent use.

When you register on our site, we collect the information you choose to fill in on the website forms and gather this information so that we can process your requests and efficiently manage the information, as well as use it to develop and improve our services.
